Best Practices-I

1. Title : Community Connect

2. Objectives :

The College was established in the year 1963 . It was started with the aim of providing higher education to the employees of 'Bhilai Steel Plant'. The college served as a major resource center to provide manpower to Bhilai Steel Plant. The college committed and strongly adheres to their objectives

1. To develop responsible citizens who can be harbingers of change in the society.
2. To sensitizing the students towards the society so as to bring about positive change in the communities and address real life societal challenges.
3. To enable the effective contribution of students towards sustainable development by inculcation of skills for transforming life's and communities.
4. To motivate students about civic awareness and developing sustainable partnerships with the wider community so that they can connect their service with their academic experiences and explore their unique roles in the community.
5. To connect with all over community through social awareness programs, Health programs, sport training, philanthropy by staff, Departmental Society activities, Village connect through NCC/NSS, renting college assets for social need/activities etc.

3. The Context

- Community Connect uses experiential learning approach to help the students gain practical experience as well as increase their sensitivity and maturity towards the larger surrounding society.
- Student development will take place by making them more sensitive to their surrounding society, making them able to take on more responsibility at an earlier age.
- Community Connect also involves faculty participation. This is justified by the "Anaaj daan Yojna" initiated by the faculty of political science which is open to all who want to do philanthropies.
- Our college has continuously serve patients of blood cancer to improve their health by providing "Jawara ras (wheat grass juice)".
- Apart from helping students, we have adopted a village every year and work with the community to solve real time issues and to do native practices of agriculture, medicine, social customs, etc.

4. The practice
