2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT enabled tools for effective teaching-learning process. Write description in maximum of 200 words

It is necessary to use information and communication technology now in the changing time. The institute provides ITC-enabled tools for the students and the teachers to enhance the learning process. Projectors are used by most of the departments. Smart Classrooms are there to enrich the process of teaching and learning. During the COVID-19 period, Google Meet was used to conduct classes. Seminars are organized for students and they participated with the PPT presenter and learn the technique as well as learn the content more effectively. English language lab is used to teach communication skills to the students. Acquisition of basic skills becomes easier for the students through the ICT enable tools. The correct usage of technology enhances teaching methods and makes both the teachers and learner proficient. Projectors, Desktops, Printers, Photo Copiers are available in the institute. Virtual classes and Seminars are attended by the teachers and the students. In many ways, these tools are used to make the process of teaching and learning more practical and more effective.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

Internal Assessment tests have the purpose of evaluation and reform. Class tests are conducted by subject teachers and the answer sheets are evaluated and shown to the students. Students are guided on the basis of their performance. 10% marks are included in internal assessment in final result. For P.G. classes three internal tests are conducted during a semester and best to scores are added to the internal assessment. Assignments and seminars are also the parts of internal assessment. Along with it the overall performance of students is also evaluated and the marks are added to the internal assessment. In practical exams the marks are given on the answer sheets, practical record book and the viva of the students. The external examiner also evaluates the answer sheets and practical copies. Academic and co-curricular activities are taken in to account while giving the marks are internal assessments. Assignments and Seminars are evaluated and the students are made aware of the short comings and flows, with this the improvements of the performance of the students is intended.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time-bound and efficient

Internal Assessment is a necessary part of the evaluation of the learning of students. The institution has a time-bound and transparent method of internal assessments in which internal assessment tests, seminars, and assignments are included. Internal marks are uploaded on the portal provided by the university. The marks of some students are not included in the final result sometimes by the University due to some technical fault or some mistake. These technical faults or mistakes are brought in to the notice of the University by the institution when the students come to the institution with grievances. When they come they are provided assistance and proper documents are provided to correct the results of the students. By further action, the result is corrected by the University. Seminars and assignments are evaluated and feedback is given to the students for the purpose of improvement. The notice of each test and seminar is circulated in Whatsapp groups and notice boards of the departments. Any other grievances of the students are addressed with proper care by the in-charge teachers and the heads of the departments.

4.3 - IT Infrastructure

4.3.1 - Institution frequently updates its IT facilities including Wi-Fi

With the increasing demand for internet access in educational campuses due to evolving standard of education and flexibility offered by the Internet, educational institutes are keenly stepping forward to setup secured and stable Wi-Fi network campus for their students. Currently the institution is using high speed internet facility of Foxtel lease line of 50 MBPS. This Wi-Fi runs 24X7 in the college campus for the student and faculty members to avail internet connection at any place in the college and hostel. The connectivity through a fully networked campus with state-of-the-art IT infrastructure, computing & communication resources, offers students the facilities of e-mail, net surfing, up/down loading of web based application, besides helping them in preparing projects & seminars. Institution uses Cyberoam firewall to prevent illegal access of internet consisting of (Firewall and UTM appliances). This Cyberoam network security appliances include multiple features like Firewall - VPN (SSL VPN & IPsec), Gateway Anti-Virus, Anti-Spyware & Anti-Spam, Intrusion Prevention System (IPS), Content & Application Filtering, Web Application Firewall, Application Visibility & Control, Bandwidth Management, Multiple Link Management for Load Balancing and Gateway Failover, over a single platform. The functioning of Wi-Fi is monitored regularly.

5.3.2 - Institution facilitates students' representation and engagement in various administrative, co-curricular and extracurricular activities (student council/ students representation on various bodies as per established processes and norms)

The development of any educational institution can only happen with the combined efforts of the staff and students working and studying in that institution. Various efforts have been made to increase the participation of students in Kalyan Mahavidyalaya. For this, the election of the student union has been done in the past years as per the orders of the government. Since this time no order of the government has come regarding the election of the student union, therefore student councils of various faculties were formed. These councils keep providing suggestions from time to time to improve the quality of the faculty. Along with this, various types of social, cultural and academic events are also organized by these councils. Science, Commerce, Arts and Education Councils have been formed at the college level. Various programs conducted by all these councils have been presented in detail. Such councils not only help in the development of the department and the faculty, but through the council, the students also get a chance to express their views. Kalyan Mahavidyalaya provides a platform to the students through the council.

5.4 - Alumni Engagement

5.4.1 - There is a registered Alumni Association that contributes significantly to the development of the institution through financial and/or other support services

Alumni provide support in various ways in the development of the department. These alumni organize various types of educational and non-educational programs in the department. Lectures are organized by the alumni. We cannot see the benefits of alumni directly in monetary terms but their contribution have always been there indirectly. An alumnus of our college is the Mayor of Bhilai city, Mr. Neeraj Pal, with whose help the physical resources of the college have been developed from time to time. Similarly, the maintenance of the physical infrastructure of the college has been possible through the senior councilor of Bhilai Municipal Corporation, Mr. Laxmipati Raju. Another alumnus is Mr. Rajesh Chauhan, through whom the Chauhan Academy is run in the college campus, which provides cricket training to students from not only Bhilai but also from various areas of Chhattisgarh and is helping them to become better cricketers. The alumnus of college is providing their services in various positions in different areas of India. An alumnus of the teaching faculty, Mr. Ajay Sahu, is currently serving in Moscow city of Russia. All of them have been providing their role in the development of the college online and offline from time to time.

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of and in tune with the vision and mission of the institution

College is associated with Hemchand Yadav University, all programmes adhere to the university's policies. The institution's head is in charge of managing the organisation and providing advice on strategic direction. The institution's governance is a reflection of its vision and mission statements, which outline its goals and objectives. The institution strives to give students a well-rounded education that will be capable for socially, consciously, and environmentally conscious adults as well as prepare them for the challenges of a changing society. Value-added programmes and career-focused UG and PG programmes have been created to help students reach this aim by enhancing their employability through the development of their skills, independence, and global competency. Sustainable development and awareness of environmental and ecological issues brought up through a variety of activities, such as tree-planting ceremonies, the installation of solar panels and LED lighting, etc. Through ICT, modern technology is made available to improve the process of teaching - learning and the growth of creative technological skills.

An example of participative management and decentralisation in action is the rotating of committee members, which ensures that faculty members participate actively in multiple committees throughout their tenure. The decentralisation and full involvement processes are managed by the principal.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

The institution's management works with the principal to oversee both academic and non-academic top leadership. In charge of science, the arts, commerce, and education are four faculty members. Students in UG and PG programmes are evaluated through internal evaluations, projects, seminars, and annual/semester exams.

Various committees that have been established every year by the Principal, and Faculty Heads. For example, officers-in-charge oversee the administration and student profile which is set by the University for both UG and PG students. For internal examination each Faculty has an Incharge which is set by the examination committee which conducts the examination in every session and the incharge of the examination is on the rotating basis depending on their seniority. Another example of participative management and decentralisation in action is the rotating of committee members, which ensures that faculty members participate actively in multiple committees throughout their tenure.

For example, officers-in-charge oversee the administration of each exam set and are chosen on a rotating basis. 6.2 - Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 - The institutional Strategic/ perspective plan is effectively deployed

The institution has equipped three classes with smart boards and given out computers, demonstrating how important ICT is to the teaching and learning process. The college has combined the use of computers in the classroom with ICT for teaching and learning. Teachers and students participated in online training programmes that were arranged by IMPARTUS staff and trainers.

Here are some examples of potential outcomes in IMPARTUS:

1. Teachers and students will be able to access the special lecture sessions given by invited speakers with ease and smoothness in the future.

2. The ability to use screen sharing to quickly share PPTs, Word documents, PDF files, audio/video clips, etc.

3. A whiteboard or green board that can be used by instructors and students

4. Students get notices and teachers can easily plan classes.

5. Encouraging students to easily access study materials by providing "hangouts" where they can be uploaded.

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities

The IQAC meets frequently and determines what needs to be improved in all pertinent areas, both internally and externally. The institution's principal kept an eye on the input from students in each department and made decisions to ensure that all of the planned activities and events went off without a hitch. The IQAC makes sure that the college's policies, procedures, and action plans are carried out as intended.

During alumni meetings, input from the alumni is also gathered. Parents provide input on the curriculum's activities. Each faculty member keeps a teaching journal in which they record the dates and subjects covered in each day's routine teaching activities for both PG and UG classes. It was observed on a weekly and monthly basis by the Head of the Institute, the responsible faculty, and the HOD. There are meetings with the principal, the chairperson, the heads of department and HODs, and the coordinator of the IQAC.

The stakeholders such as parents, alumni, and students provided regular feedback that was monitored and taken into consideration. The students' feedback forms are gathered, and the feedback committee reviews and examines them.

INSTITUTIONAL VALUES AND BEST PRACTICES

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year

Gender equity puts the focus on fairness and justice regarding benefits and needs for women and men. Opportunities of equity is provided in the field of education, health & humanitarian sectors referring to the equal distribution of resources based on the needs of different group of people. Our vision includes creating a safe space for our students and providing a gender sensitive and empowering education. Providing a gender sensitization a not limited to classroom alone. We have created a fear free environment to the campus that allows students to think, ask and feel free to react positively. We have an active Internal Complaints Committee, a statutory body formed to register complaints of harassment and to undertake formal proceedings to resolve them. The Internal complain committee plays a crucial role in fostering gender sensitivity on campus. Various awareness programs organized that aim to provide an intersectional approach in creating awareness amongst students about the inequalities confronting all genders. In this regard, different committees has organized various awareness programs in association with different PG departments under the subject Gender Equity, Women health awareness, prevention of girl child etc.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

Community Connect

The College was established in the year 1963 . It was started with the aim of providing higher education to the employees of 'Bhilai Steel Plant'. The college served as a major resource center to provide manpower to Bhilai Steel Plant. The college committed and strongly adheres to their objectives

To develop responsible citizens who can be harbingers of change in the society. To sensitizing the students towards the society so as to bring about positive change in the communities and address real life societal challenges. To enable the effective contribution of students towards sustainable development by inculcation of skills for transforming life's and communities. To motivate students about civic awareness and developing sustainable partnerships with the wider community they can connect their service with their academic experiences and explore their unique roles in the community.

JAWARA RAS AND SPROUT CENTRE

The world today is facing new types of diseases. Nature is our best friend which can really help the ailing people and those who want rapid health recovery. Jawara Ras is well known as Green Blood throughout the world which is consumed for fast health recovery. It is also helpful in maintaining good health and strong immune.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

Our Chhattisgarh state is known for tribe's art and culture. However, the Bhilai nagar township is known for Bhilai Steel Plant which contains peoples from large diversity in religious and community. The objective of this practice is to motivate and prepare students to balance and maintain the communal harmony in addition of placing tribes culture in the main flow. Communal harmony means that people of different religions, castes, creeds, sex and different background live together in the society with love and peace. It simply means living with unity and mutual reciprocity, beyond class, caste, creed, religion and gender barriers. However, in the present time, various untoward incidents are affecting the communal harmony in different parts of the country. Communal harmony now is the fundamental need of every country's fabric. The time has now come for all mankind to live on earth in harmony as a single family. With this objective our college has adopted the policy to make an communal harmony environment that helps to maintain the harmony and increase the culture of brotherhood.
